Top A Tuna Pie With Cheese

Are meatless meals taxing your culinary ingenuity? They need not, if you know the secret of preparing protein-rich dishes by combining cheese and fresh or canned fish.

A good example is a "Cheese-Tuna Biscuit Pie" recipe, newly developed by the Borden Kitchen. It's a delightful combination of sharp process American Cheddar cheese and canned tuna which will appeal to the man of the house on two counts—it's rich taste, and its low cost.

Cheese-Tuna Biscuit Pie
(Makes 4 to 6 servings)

1 (8-oz.) can Sweetmilk or Buttermilk Biscuits
1 cup (7-oz. can) flaked tuna fish
½ cup diced celery
1 tablespoon finely chopped green pepper
2 (¼-oz.) envelopes Instant Minced Onion chopped (or ¼ cup fresh onion)
1 tablespoon lemon juice
¼ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
6 thin slices tomato
6 (12-oz. pkg.) Vera-Sharp Cheese Slices

Remove biscuits from package. Press biscuits evenly over bottom and sides of buttered 9-inch pie pan to form crust or shell. Bake according to package directions. Combine tuna fish, celery, green pepper, onion, lemon juice, seasonings and mayonnaise. Spread tuna fish mixture evenly over baked biscuit shell. Circle top evenly with 5 of the tomato slices. Cut cheese slices package in half diagonally. Remove wrapper and separate cheese triangles. Circle cheese slice triangles, edges overlapping, over entire top of pie. Tuck points of cheese slices inside biscuit shell. Place remaining tomato slice on top center of pie. Place pie under preheated broiler about 4 inches from heat for about 3 minutes, or until the cheese is hot and bubbly. Remove from broiler; cut into wedge-shaped pieces. Serve hot.
